Thompson was arrested and soon released upon his own recognizance by order of Attorney-General Neumann.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The S. S. Alameda sails at noon to-day.

Mr. Levey will hold a sale this evening at Goo Kim's store on Nuanu street.

There will be a four-oared race on the Fourth of July. Entries may be left at J. M. Oat & Co's.

By the Steamship Planter Mr. James I. Dowsett, Jr., and his young wife arrived from Hawaii.

It has pleased Her Majesty Queen Kapiolani to appoint Mr. W. W. Hall Treasurer of the fund for the benefit of the lepers.

Mr. Greeley, at one time manager of the Hawaiian Hotel, is now running the Hong Kong hotel in that city, and is apparently doing well.

The baseball match on Saturday resulted in a victory for the Oceanic club. This is said to be the first defeat the Honolulu club has suffered.

H. W. Schmidt, consul for Sweden and Norway, entertained H. R. H. Prince Oscar of Sweden, and a number of distinguished guests at his residence last Thursday evening.

H. R. H. Prince Oscar, Commander H. Klintberg and Lieutenant N. Sundstrom, accompanied by Col. Curtis P. Iaukea, embarked on board the S. S. Planter Friday eve at 10 o'clock, en route to the Volcano.

A second billiard match took place Thursday last between the "Great Unknown" and Mr. Sam Parker's protegee. The "Unknown" conceded 100 points to the latter, and when the game was over the latter had only 410 points to his credit.

The billiard match between Saunders and Bowen did not come off Friday night. The latter challenged any one in the room, conceding 50 points out of 300. A native took up the challenge, and the game resulted in favor of Bowen by 12 points.

At a meeting of Oahu Lodge, K. of P., held last Wednesday evening (June 25) at their hall, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Chas. H. Clark, Chancellor; Commander; Frank Godfrey, Vice-Chancellor; John D. Holt, Jr., Prelate, re-elected; I. Ginsburg, Master-at-Arms.

The Portuguese have at last all been dispatched to their respective destinations. Messrs. G. W. Macfarlane & Co. were the first to ship their men and the last in the depot were also for their plantations. They all appear satisfied with the management at the Immigration depot, and also with the shipping on the steamers, which was conducted with unusual care.

Hon. H. A. Widemann has obtained leave of absence from his Legislative duties for an unlimited period.

A reception was given in honor of Rev. Ed. G. Beckwith, by the graduates of Punahou College, on Tuesday last.

The City of Paris has been detained by telegram from London per Alameda until the next steamer by which her orders will arrive. Among the passengers for England by the Paris will be Miss Levey, Miss Helen Coney, Mrs. A. Herbert and daughter, Mrs. Paul Neumann and family, and the son of Mr. D. R. Vida, who go to school in the old country.

Mr. W. E. Deane arrived by the S. S. Alameda on 23rd ult. Mr. Deane is one of the principal owners in the celebrated Contention Mine of Tombstone. He is also the owner of large properties on Market street, San Francisco, whereon he has erected some fine buildings.

On the evening of June 21st, Captain and Mrs. Mist entertained the mid-shipsmen of the Switzer. The evening was very enjoyably passed in dancing, and many belles of very youthful years were present. Among the young ladies were the Misses Mist, Misses Atkinson, Misses Dowsett, Miss Anstun, Misses Benson, Miss Ethel Wodehouse, Miss Allie Widemann, Miss Mabel Rhodes, Miss Wilder and many others.

Madame Zeitska, of San Francisco, a lady who has been long connected with the educational interests of the Coast, arrived by the Alameda, and is staying at the Hawaiian Hotel. Madame Zeitska's institute for the young ladies is one of the best conducted schools in San Francisco. She is accompanied by her daughters, and expresses herself delighted with Honolulu.

Mr. S. D. Strong's large painting of the Pali is now on exhibition at Mr. Strong's studio on Nuanu Avenue every day except Mondays and Thursdays. It will be withdrawn at the expiration of ten days. This fine picture, which is a most realistic reproduction of the most remarkable landscape painted to the order of Mr. J. D. Spreckels, and will hang in his new residence in San Francisco.

"General Hancock," winner of the Kohala Club Cup was, put up for public competition last week, and bought in, Lady Hooker brought $320, Mr. Sam Parker being the purchaser. That beautiful promising 2-year-old filly Eva fell to Mr. A. J. Agnew for $475, and a pair of carriage horses to Capt. Cluney for $530. Mr. Clarence Macfarlane purchased a handsome black stallion for $55.

Referring to the late Samuel D. Gross, M. D., of whom we publish a brief biography elsewhere, a medical gentleman writes: "By the death of Samuel D. Gross, M.D., a man who stood pre-eminent in the profession in America, whose abilities and social qualities endeared him to all—to the poor always a ready and willing attendant, to the needy, generous to a fault, the nation has lost a great man—the medical profession a wise teacher."

A distinguished and gay party assembled at the Hotel Friday evening to enjoy a dance. Being for a charitable purpose, tickets were taken by old and young, and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was the result. His Majesty and the Queen were present, also H. R. H. Prince Oscar during the early part of the evening. Princess Liliuokalani and Princess Likelike graced the ball with their presence, as also did other distinguished residents and visitors. This can be chronicled as the most brilliant of all balls given in this city, and Her Majesty is to be congratulated on a second grand success.

The Bulletin of yesterday gave what they called an analysis of the Government Vote on the "Want of Confidence" in the Ministers. They omitted, however, to give an analysis of the Opposition vote which has been furnished us by an expert. It is as follows:

The gross receipts of the entertainment given on Saturday night last for the leper fund were $404.

We understand that there is a movement on foot to secure an organ for the chapel of the lepers at the branch hospital at Kakaako. Services are conducted there by ministers of different denominations, and a good read organ would be a valuable adjunct. It would also be a source of enjoyment to these unhappy people, who, separated from all they love, are so deserving of sympathy.

On Sunday 22nd, Commodore O. Lagerberg of H.S.M.S. Vanadis gave a dinner on board, at which were present H.R.H. Prince Oscar and staff, Admiral Lyons, Captain Aitchison of H.B.M.S. Swiftsure, Captain Edwards of H.B.M.S. Mutine, Major J. H. Wodehouse, Consul H. W. Schmidt, and Hon. Curtis P. Iaukea.

An inquest was held at Hilo on the 13th ultimo, on the body of Leon Chu, who, as we reported last week, hanged himself on the previous day in the gaol. He was under arrest on a charge of murder, and had only been received into the gaol on the evening of the 11th. He had been searched as usual, and was handcuffed. In spite of the irons he managed to make a sort of rope of his underclothes. This he tied to one of the window bars, and putting a noose round his neck succeeded in strangling himself. He was found by the gaoler leaning forward in the noose. A medical man being sent for, an attempt was made to resuscitate him by means of artificial respiration. This was continued for about 45 minutes, when at last the attempt was shown to be hopeless by the respiration dying out entirely. The doctor gave it as his opinion that the man had not been dead more than about half-an-hour when found.

THE EDUCATION OF WOMEN.—It is high time that all good housewives should be more highly educated than in former years, if only to be able to detect the manifold schemes made by unscrupulous manufacturers to aid competition by deception. A case in point has very recently occurred. Various dealers, totally unconnected with Baron Liebig, have been using his name and photograph, and the Liebig Extract of Meat Company have found it necessary to inform the public that they are the only manufacturers who can offer the article with Baron Liebig's guarantee of genuineness. It therefore behooves all housekeepers to insist upon seeing the name of the Company on the jar, and the fac-simile of Baron Liebig's signature in blue ink across the label.—See ADV.

ISLAND NOTES.

HONOKAA, June 20th, 1884.

A public meeting was held in the court house at Honokaa on last Wednesday evening to protest against the "Bank Charter." Only two or three natives were present, and their apathy on the subject was very apparent. They seemed perfectly indifferent whether they had paper money, gold money, or no money at all.

Judge Hart holds court here to-day. The steamer C. R. Bishop is only three days behind her time this week. We have heard it suggested that the Honokaa Sugar Co. should purchase the steamer Kapiolani to tow the Bishop up the coast in heavy weather. I should say wait till the Bank Charter passes them and we may then have a new line of steamers on this route.

KOHALA, June 20, 1884.

Quite a haul of gamblers at Kupaau last Sunday, consisting of natives and Chinamen. Good morals must be sustained, even if some one does get hurt.

Some of the planters continue planting in spite of dry weather. It would seem that past experience might be remembered; but faith is good, and if you are righteous your prayers may prevail. I will help you in the matter, so you will probably get rain.

How many planters get the benefit of the exchange? It belongs to them, and is quite an item.

The Hon. A. S. Cleghorn's advice regarding importation of more Chinamen is good and if planters are considered at all in the matter the Legislature will act in accordance. There is no labor so good for ordinary field work as the Chinamen, though Portuguese are best with horses and plows. Labor, and that cheap, is what we must have.

There is considerable talk about the crooked testimony of the Police Justice in the case of Robert Mason. A large number of persons present during the case are willing to testify that the testimony given before him was exactly opposite to what he swore to on the appeal. He should not occupy the position a single day, and it is a conundrum why he is allowed to.

There are rumors in the air that our large plantations is to change managers, and that Mr. G. C. Williams is coming back. This may be a native rumor without foundation and probably is.

We have said good-bye to Mr. Roberts, the public clerk of the Puenchu store, who goes on a visit to his native land. He seems uncertain as to returning, but we hope after a pleasant trip he will again look in upon us. He has but one blot on his fair name—he corresponded for the Gazette.

Mr. Ewart is adding to the cottage in which he resides, in hopes of again having his mother with him.

A vessel is daily expected at Mahukona, loaded for S. G. Wilder & Co.

The Catholic Father (Oliver) informed Dr. Thompson that the mission would give substantial aid in the erection of a hospital here, and would have Sisters come to attend it. It would be a fine thing for the district, and one long ago asked for by the resident physician, who offered his services free.

The weather has been very windy for two or more weeks, making the little showers we have had of but slight good to seed in the ground.

Cassius Gibson and Brutus Rhodes.

Gibson: That you have wronged me doth appear in this:

You have in open legislature stated that I did make things so extremely hot, Thou didst in wrath send in thy resignation.

And let the Board of Education paddle its own canoe.

Rhodes: You wronged yourself, and as a Christian gentleman

I shook you, Gibson; I could do naught less.

Gibson: And all because I raised the lady's salary.

Oh, Brutus Rhodes, I deemed thy gallant soul

Could see no wrong in standing by the ladies (uplifting his eyes); God bless them.

Rhodes: Let me tell you, Gibson, you yourself

Are much condemned to have an itching palm.

To sell and mart your offices for gold To underservers.

Gibson: I, an itching palm;

Sho! Cassius, you've been hearing Godfrey Brown

Reading the newspapers, woefully misled.

Or, by the gods, this speech were else your last.

Rhodes: The name of Gibson honors this corruption And chastisement doth therefore hide his head.

Gibson: Remember, Rhodes, the kalends of September;

Remember all the Ministers that we Have caused to bleed for Justice's sake.

By bleed, I mean to bounce from their snug seats,

And make a place for other gentlemen, Which, in their turn, were bounced, and bounced again.

Shall one of us who made each foremost man

Step down and out to let another in, Be now accused of paltry peculation.

Of eating turkeys at the State's expense, And wearing corsets paid for by the same?

For so much trash as may be grasped thus; I had rather be a dog and bay the moon than such a Hawaiian.

Rhodes: Go to; you're not Gibson.

Gibson: I am.

Rhodes: I say you're not.

Gibson: Urge me no more. I shall forget myself.

Have mind upon your health; tempt me no further.

Rhodes: Oh, ye gods, ye gods, must I endure all this?

Gibson: All this, and more; you left office when the crowd,

Thronging the highways and the market place,

Withdrew their poi-laden fingers from their mouths

To shout, "Away with Gibson."

Now, must I stand and crouch under your testy humor?

From this day forth I am for my mirth;

Yea, for my laughter when you are wasped.

[Brutus Rhodes rushes from the room for the records of the Board of Education, and Cassius Gibson telephones to his residence not to mind laying a plate for Brutus as that patriot cannot lunch with him to-day.]

Sheridan once told a story of the exquisite good breeding of a banker's clerk, of whom the wit had borrowed some money, and to whom he actually repaid it. "Didn't he look astonished?" asked a discourteous friend. "No," said Sheridan, "he was just going to look astonished, when he remembered his manners and swept away the money as unconcernedly as if he had not given up any idea of not seeing it again."

A young girl was caught kissing her sweetheart a few nights ago. Her mother took her to task for such actions, but the girl silenced her by this quotation: "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them."

The old lady wilted. Memories of old were brought forcibly to mind.
